Our termly Value : Forgiveness
The Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive.

Dear Parents/Carers

The children have really settled back into the routine of things now and are becoming ever familiar with the expectations. I am now able to walk around the school and see lots of children eagerly learning in their classrooms. A few are still finding it tricky and we do have some tired bodies by 3:00pm but all the staff are working hard to support all the children.

The Ten book challenge continues to engage all year groups and just highlights the joy of picture books. They are often leading to some really interesting conversations and discussions.

It has been great to see the children in all areas learning with a smile on their faces – In Malvern the children have been thoroughly engaged in their current art topic studying impressionist painters and their style and in Mayhill the children have been having fun on the balance bikes in PE and leaping out of boxes introducing their own super hero characters!

Comic relief!

Thank you to everyone for getting fully involved – as I write this I am becoming increasingly worried (we only have Early Risers in and already the total is creeping towards £100). I spoke to a colleague who had worn the jelly wellies in the past and he recalled how the colouring had dyed his legs for a month!!!!
